STAY OF TROOPS INDEFINITE

May Remain on Border Duty for Unlimited Period.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 14.—There is no immediate prospect for state troops on border duty to return home other than the organizations already under orders. General Funston made this clear by pointing out that all national guard troops remaining in state mobilization camps have been ordered out and are taking the place of an equivalent number that have been on duty for several months.

Troops not relieved in this exchange must remain indefinitely mobilized unless the war department changes its policy and decides to decrease the strength of the border patrol.

Jackson, Cal., Oct. 13.—Two hundred and fifty striking miners prevented the South Eureka mine near Sutter creek from opening when they blocked the approach of the strike-breakers and dared Sheriff Lucot and fifteen deputies to shoot.

With drawn revolvers the deputies tried to take into the mine twelve men who wanted to work.

"Go ahead and shoot, we don't care for our lives!" yelled the strikers, who blocked the trail.

There was no violence.

BRAINERD TO WELCOME EXECUTIVE OF STATE

Young Men's Republican Club in Monster Torch Light Parade, Headed by City Band

Tom Wood Parade Leader, Crow Wing County Republican Club Has Meeting at the County Court House

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist will deliver his keynote speech of the campaign at Brainerd Saturday evening, October 21.

Brainerd will be lighted next Saturday night.

The Young Men's Republican club have devised a novel plan for illuminating the uptown district next Saturday night when Gov. Burnquist is to make the opening address of his campaign here.

A big parade with over one hundred republicans carrying torches will march through the streets displaying republican banners and in other ways demonstrating the strength and enthusiasm of the good old party.

The Brainerd City band has been engaged to furnish inspiring music for the occasion and the world's greatest parade leader, Tom Wood, will lead the parade. As some one remarked, we must have Tom out in front as symbolic of the strength and size of the republican party.

At first it was planned to have only the members of the Young Men's Republican club do the marching, but the old-timers could not stand silently by and insisted on taking their places in the line of march and it is estimated that several hundred will be in the parade.

After the parade the marchers will go in a body to Gardner auditorium to hear the governor turn loose the opening guns of the campaign. Gov. Burnquist is an orator of the first rank and Brainerd has been highly honored by the opportunity to hear the governor in his opening speech.

The Crow Wing County Republican club met at the court house Friday afternoon, Chairman Judge C. A. Allbright presiding. Reports were read from the State Central Committee.

Crow Wing county precincts were well represented.

Col. Freeman Thorp of Hubert, prominent in war, art and a political leader at one time of Ohio, addressed the meeting.

John Mahlum, chairman of the Young Men's Republican club, announced that the club would turn out in a body at the time of the governor's visit in Brainerd, October 21.

The chairman, C. A. Allbright, secretary of the club, Wm. Nelson, and the chairman of the Young Men's Republican club, John Mahlum, were appointed a committee to arrange for speakers.

W. F. Wieland, S. R. Adair and R. R. Wise were appointed a committee to solicit funds to defray expenses.

Hughes Strikes at Democratic Tariff Policy

(By United Press)

Aboard Hughes Special, Oct. 14.—Sailing across the Nebraska prairies, Mr. Hughes struck vigorously at the democratic tariff policy, and cried a solemn warning of the evil days to come after the war if the democratic policy continued. He is in splendid fighting trim, with his voice clear and ringing. Special physical treatment under Physical Director Gibson is being given him. It consists merely of athletic rubbing. Following his major speeches when Mr. Hughes is dripping with perspiration, he rushes to a hotel, takes a shower bath and an alcohol rub and has his muscles kneaded and he feels bully.

Y. M. C. A. ISSUES STATEMENT TODAY

Light Bill Owing Water and Light Board for Light Furnished Oct. 1, 1905 to Oct. 1, 1909

THEN PLACED ON N. P. CIRCUIT

With Special Fund and Collection of Unpaid Subscriptions, $256.59 Bill Soon to be Paid

Because of recent criticism of the Y. M. C. A. for not having paid an old bill owing to the Water and Light board, the following statement is made by the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. in order to place the entire situation before the public.

Along in the fall of 1909, the Y. M. C. A. was closed because of lack of funds to carry it on. At that time there were outstanding obligations amounting to about $3,500, among them being this bill of the Water and Light board for current furnished from October 1, 1905, to October 1, 1909, amounting to $256.59. On the first of June, 1910, the association was again opened, the railroad company undertaking to furnish electric current, and this arrangement has continued since. The only obligation owing to the Water and Light board at the present time is for current furnished prior to Oct. 1, 1909.

In October, 1912, the total indebtedness of the association, including this Water and Light board bill amounted to $3,731.00. A campaign was put on to raise funds to clear up this indebtedness, and as a result a total of $3,866.16 was pledged. Of this amount, $3,290.53 was collected within a comparatively short time and bills amounting to $3,255.02 were paid. The money raised through this campaign was put into a special fund of which G. D. LaBar was made treasurer, and was devoted to the payment of the foregoing indebtedness. Since then the association has managed to pay up $219.47 more of bills, so that of the old indebtedness only the bill of the Water and Light board remains.

At the present time there is a balance of $114.82 in the special fund on deposit in the bank, and unpaid subscriptions amounting to $189.25, nearly all of which is good though collection is slow. It is expected that the balance of the unpaid subscriptions will be collected before long and the last of the old bills discharged.

TEUTON INVASION HALTED DRIVEN BACK TO BORDER

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 14.—The Roumanians have halted the Teutonic invasion south of Red Tower Pass, and driven the Teutons back a considerable distance from the border. Bucharest says that Falkenhayn has been checked everywhere along the Transylvanian front.

LONDON PRESS SEES U. S. ISOLATION GONE

London, Oct. 14.—What the United States will do in regard to the German submarine raid off its coast is the theme of the editorials of most of the weekly reviews.

"The over-night American isolation has vanished," says the Outlook and, in common with other reviews, this newspaper discusses the effect the submarine incident will have on the Monroe doctrine.

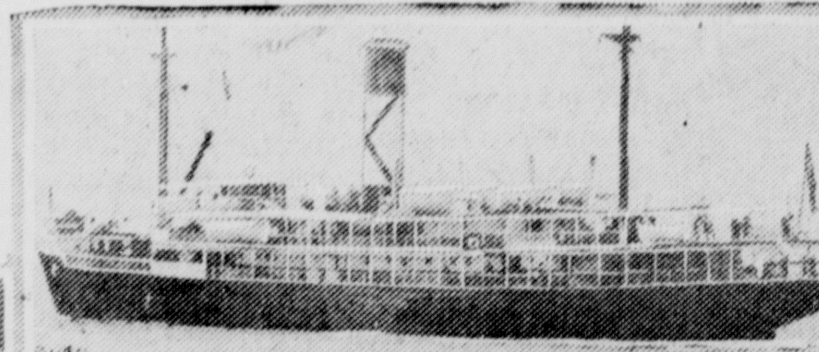

The Nation takes the interesting view that "having done something disagreeable in the U-53 affair," Germany's next step will be to seek some favor from the United States, which, it says, may be a request for mediation, or possibly only a request for an effective protest against the British blockade, as a return for muzzling her U-boats.

The Spectator considers the German motive in sending the U-53 across the sea was to force the United States to propose peace terms, regardless of whether the entente allies wish them proposed or not.

"Thus, with unrestricted submarine warfare as a settled policy," says the Spectator, "Germany gives America warning of what is likely to happen unless the United States is prepared to declare the war has reached a point where it is dangerous for neutrals."

Steamer Stephano and Rescued Passengers at Newport Naval Hospital

Some eighty passengers were rescued from the British steamship Stephano, bound from St. John's to New York, Sunday evening before she was torpedoed off the Nantucket lightship, which is forty-six miles from the nearest American territory, the Island of Nantucket, by the German submarine U-53. They were taken to Newport by the United States destroyer Ericsson, where they were cared for at the naval hospital.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—The University of North Dakota football team this afternoon met the University of Minnesota at Northrop field.
Both teams were in good shape. The Gophers have a victory over South
Dakota College and the Flickertails have a victory over St. Thomas. Licking Minnesota was North Dakota's big ambition this year.

The air was crisp and both teams entered the field showing plenty of fighting spirit. The Flickertails showed that do or die spirit in practice and the Gophers showed that they were not lacking in winning spirit.

The band struck up a lively air as the Gophers entered the field and the crowd arose and gave a loud cheer that split the air. The Flickertails were also given a rousing cheer.

Both teams went through a short signal practice.

Officials were announced as Means,
University of Pennsylvania, referee;
Adams, Ohio University, umpire;
Haggerty, Coby University, field
judge, and Harding, Minnesota, headlinesman.

Doc Williams of Minnesota, is having considerable trouble finding two suitable ends. He will be well fortified there as soon as the old reliable Capt. Baston is able to play. This is expected for the Iowa game next Saturday.

Wise, who has been trying out for sub full back, was started at right end and Flynn at left. The line-up:

Minnesota—L. E. Flynn, L. T.
Mayer, L. G. Sinclair, C. Hanson, R.
G. Townley, R. T. Hausser, R. E.
Wise, Long Quarter, Johnson, L. H.
Ballentine, R. H. and Wyman full.

North Dakota—R. E. Seed, Capt.
R. T. Finkerson, R. G. Hjalmerston,
C. Mann, L. G. Koucky, L. T. Boyce,
L. E. Johnson, Q. McCarthy, L. H.
Gulleckson, R. H. Helmkey and Mc-Kay full back.

BIBLE MANUSCRIPTS.

The Sinaitic, Alexandrian and Vatican
Are the Oldest Known.

The oldest Bible manuscripts now in existence date from about 300 to 450 A. D. and show us the Bible as it existed soon after apostolic days. All the earlier manuscripts were either lost or destroyed in the terrible persecutions which were directed not only against the Christians, but against their treasured sacred writings, their enemies thus hoping to stamp out even the slightest traces of Christianity.
The three oldest manuscripts now in existence are known as the Sinaitic, the Alexandrian and the Vatican manuscripts.

The Sinaitic was found by the eminent Bible scholar Tischendorf in a convent on Mount Sinai in 1844. It contained the Septuagint, other parts of the Old Testament, the New Testament complete and some of the apocryphal books. The writing, after a lapse of more than 1,500 years, is still clear and legible.

The Alexandrian manuscript, which came to light in 1628, is not quite so ancient as the Sinaitic. It has the Old Testament complete, except that ten leaves are missing, and the New Testament lacks nearly thirty leaves. It is in the British museum.

The Vatican manuscript, the most ancient of all, is a great treasure, consisting of about 700 leaves of vellum bound in book form. Part of Genesis is missing and also a number of the Psalms. The New Testament is complete up to Hebrews, ninth chapter.

Other early Bible manuscripts of great value, but inferior to the three mentioned, are the Codex Ephraem and the Codex Bezae, besides which there is a long list of later manuscripts —Christian Herald.

Aliens in Medieval Times.
Medieval England had a rough and ready way of insuring the good behavior of aliens. According to the Saxon law of frankpledge, which remained in force until 1370, no "hosteler" might entertain a foreigner longer than a day and a night unless he undertook to answer for his guest's behavior. No foreigners were allowed to keep hotels in London. Some became naturalized in order to qualify for this privilege. Even these were not suffered to compete on equal terms with the natives, being required to keep their houses "in the heart of the city" and rigidly excluded from the more profitable regions near the Thames.

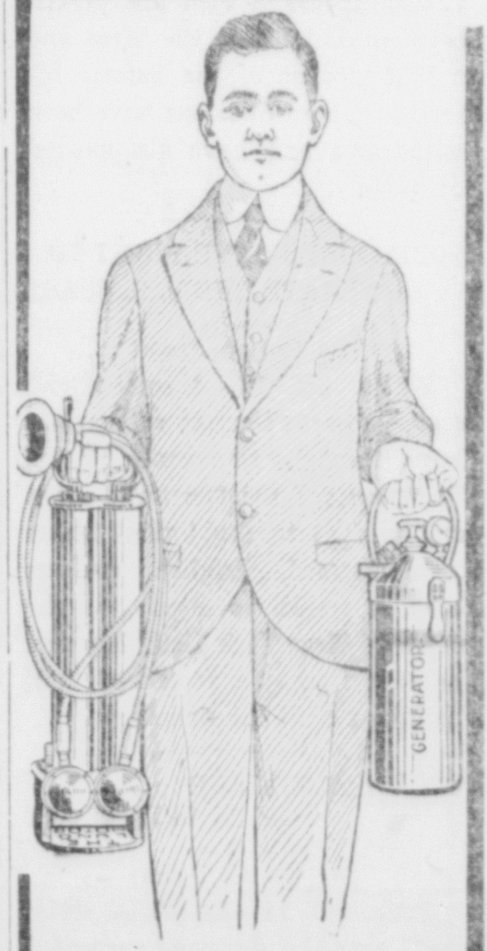

Could Not Be Disturbed.
Although Jed Hoover was the laziest man in town he always had strength to hold a book or a magazine in his hand. It was only in emergencies that the neighbors called upon him for help. One hot day in July, when the clouds threatened rain, a farmer hurried to his shack and asked him to "rake after" the last load of hay.

Jed hesitated a minute, and then his eye fell upon a pile of old magazines that were stacked in a corner of the sagging piazza.

"Well, now, I'd like to help out," was the reply, "but I'll have to refuse re this time. I'm a little behind with my reading."—Youth's Companion

WOMAN'S REALM

CELEBRATE 44TH ANNIVERSARY

First Methodist Church the Scene of Large Gathering on Friday Evening, Oct. 13

MRS. ELIZABETH TENNIS THERE

Occasion Also for Receiving the Church's Pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill and His Wife

The M. E. church has grown to a membership of 240 resident members with a Sunday school of 265 enrollment, and a strong Ladies' Aid society as well as other auxiliary societies. The church is expressing its vision of the work of the church, by erecting what is pronounced to be the most efficient building for general church work, for its size, to be found anywhere in the state.

The forty-fourth anniversary of the First Methodist Episcopal church was celebrated last night in the social rooms of the church and the members had the good fortune to have with them, Mrs. Elizabeth Tennis, who so far as is known, is the only living member of those who were in the first meeting when the church was organized. Mrs. Tennis was presented with a beautiful large bouquet of asters, a flower for each year of the church's history.

The evening was also made the occasion for receiving the church's pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill, and wife, back for another year's work and a most pleasant social time followed.

T. E. Nitterauer gave a brief history of the early years of the church, a portion of which follows:

"The First Methodist Episcopal church of Brainerd was organized

Oct. 13, 1862. The meeting was held in an unplastered hall on the northwest corner of 6th and Laurel streets. There was no stove and the weather was cold. The previous evening the hall had been used for a dance and the beer kegs left from the dance were used to support boards for seats.

"Rev. J. F. Chaffee was presiding elder and H. J. Christ the pastor in charge. The members represented and uniting on that day were: Mrs. Elizabeth Tennis, Wm. H. Tull, Lucy A. Tull, Mrs. Emiline Davenport, John R. Pegg, Ann Pegg, Sarah Pegg, and Mary Starcher. There were additions from time to time thereafter.

"In 1872 the population of Brainerd was 2700 but the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., and the consequent depression following, reduced the population to 900, and the churches as well as other interests suffered. $500 was received from collections in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Winona, through the efforts of Mr. Greeley, with which to build a chapel. A house for the pastor could not be secured so it was decided to build an addition to the chapel for a parsonage. A portion of this is incorporated in the present parsonage and the old chapel was made into the house Mrs. L. B. Treglawney, now occupies. The pastor lived in a tent until the completion of this building.

"There was a snowfall of 18 inches before the parsonage was ready for occupancy and it turned very cold. The Sunday school was organized Dec. 13, 1872, with 30 members and it doubled its numbers in three months.

"In 1881 and 1882, the amount raised by the church for all purposes was $1,657. The Ladies' Aid was organized during the year and they raised $409 of this amount. The pastor was paid $1,000 of this amount. In 1882 and 1883, the trees, stumps, bushes and cans were removed from the street and a sidewalk was built. The amount of money raised for all purposes was $2,228 this year. A parsonage costing $716.82 was built and the membership of the church was increased from 39 to 70.

The lots which the buildings now occupy were purchased from the Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land Co. for the sum of $1 on Feb. 28, 1873. The present building, forming the basis of the new church, was built in 1886, $1000 being borrowed from the church extension society and a $250 donation being received from some society. The cost was $3,749.36. The mortgage to the church extension society was paid Aug. 28, 1903."

Gladys Ione Turner, daughter of Mrs. Anna L. Turner, 721 Willow street, died yesterday evening at 7:20 o'clock. She had been sick for the past four weeks with an affection of the heart and her decease has been expected for some time.

She was born in Beardsley, Traverse county, January 19, 1898, but came to Brainerd with her parents when quite young. At the time of her sickness she was a student at the high school in the normal department. Her desire was to become a teacher that she might be of service not only in the school but also to her family.

Gladys was a quiet, unobtrusive young lady of beautiful Christian faith. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, Sabbath school and Christian Endeavor, and her influence was large because of her devotion of her life to the faith. #### READING OF AIDA

Mrs. Berna Reinhardt Wells to Appear for Musical Club at Elks Hall

On Saturday afternoon, Oct. 21st, Mrs. Berna Reinhardt Wells will give an interpretative reading of the opera "Aida" for the musical club at Elks hall.

Mrs. Wells is a graduate of The American Academy of the Dramatic Arts in New York city. This is the only school of dramatic art in the country which is chartered by the state and is the largest school of its kind in America.

She is also director of the department of expression and dramatic art in the Warren School of Music in St. Paul, and has her own school in Minneapolis.

During the ten years since her graduation Mrs. Wells has lectured, given interpretive readings and recital programs in all of the large cities throughout the country and praise of her work has been unanimous.

It is said that Mrs. Wells' work is not merely a "reading," but that it is an actual performance of the entire play or opera.

A prominent St. Paul club woman said recently: "Every club in the country should hear Mrs. Wells."

This is a "club treat" and club members are permitted to invite one guest each.

"Where Are My Children?"

Cora Drew, who plays in "Where Are My Children?" the difficult part of the young girl whose death from an unfortunate operation brings to trial a doctor for criminal practice, is one of the most popular young actresses on the screen today. Besides being an actress of ability, she has written scenarios for pictures that have been produced by Selig, Kalem and Lubin companies. She has appeared in several Fine Art films produced by Triangle picture corporation and has also been in productions of the Universal, Bosworth and Majestic. "Where Are My Children?" will be shown at the Empress theatre for three days, beginning Oct. 30. Admission 25c, no children under 16 admitted.

At the Best

Adele DeGarde, the popular Vitagraph player, has one of the principal roles in the Blue Ribbon feature, "Phantom Fortunes," released through the V. L. S. E. This feature film, which will play at the Best theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, is from the pen of Samuel Tauber, and is a story of Jewish life, starring the legitimate stage star, Barney Bernard, of "Potash and Perlmutter" fame.

In this picture, pretty Adele was cast as a telephone operator and as the scenes show her at her work it was decidedly necessary that she do things correctly. Having no idea of a switchboard she spent many hours at a nearby telephone exchange watching the operator and asking questions now and then.

When the time for the filming of the picture came around she was actually able to take her place at the switchboard in a large hotel and do the regular operator's work while the necessary feet of film was photographed. There seems no limit to the resources of the movie star.

WOMAN'S REALM

CELEBRATE 44TH ANNIVERSARY

First Methodist Church the Scene of Large Gathering on Friday Evening, Oct. 13

MRS. ELIZABETH TENNIS THERE

Occasion Also for Receiving the Church's Pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill and His Wife

The M. E. church has grown to a membership of 240 resident members with a Sunday school of 265 enrollment, and a strong Ladies' Aid society as well as other auxiliary societies. The church is expressing its vision of the work of the church, by erecting what is pronounced to be the most efficient building for general church work, for its size, to be found anywhere in the state.

The forty-fourth anniversary of the First Methodist Episcopal church was celebrated last night in the social rooms of the church and the members had the good fortune to have with them, Mrs. Elizabeth Tennis, who so far as is known, is the only living member of those who were in the first meeting when the church was organized. Mrs. Tennis was presented with a beautiful large bouquet of asters, a flower for each year of the church's history.

The evening was also made the occasion for receiving the church's pastor, Rev. F. W. Hill, and wife, back for another year's work and a most pleasant social time followed.

T. E. Nitterauer gave a brief history of the early years of the church, a portion of which follows:

"The First Methodist Episcopal church of Brainerd was organized

Oct. 13, 1862. The meeting was held in an unplastered hall on the northwest corner of 6th and Laurel streets. There was no stove and the weather was cold. The previous evening the hall had been used for a dance and the beer kegs left from the dance were used to support boards for seats.

"Rev. J. F. Chaffee was presiding elder and H. J. Christ the pastor in charge. The members represented and uniting on that day were: Mrs. Elizabeth Tennis, Wm. H. Tull, Lucy A. Tull, Mrs. Emeline Davenport, John R. Pegg, Ann Pegg, Sarah Pegg, and Mary Starcher. There were additions from time to time thereafter.

"In 1872 the population of Brainerd was 2760 but the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., and the consequent depression following, reduced the population to 900, and the churches as well as other interests suffered. $500 was received from collections in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Winona, through the efforts of Mr. Greely, with which to build a chapel. A house for the pastor could not be secured so it was decided to build an addition to the chapel for a parsonage. A portion of this is incorporated in the present parsonage and the old chapel was made into the house. Mrs. L. B. Treglawney, now occupies. The pastor lived in a tent until the completion of this building.

"There was a snowfall of 18 inches before the parsonage was ready for occupancy and it turned very cold. The Sunday school was organized Dec. 13, 1872, with 30 members and it doubled its numbers in three months.

"In 1881 and 1882, the amount raised by the church for all purposes was $1,657. The Ladies' Aid was organized during the year and they raised $409 of this amount. NO TRADE WAR

It is reassuring to hear one strong British voice raised in warning against the proposed British trade war against Germany after the present conflict is over. Lord Bryce, in a clear and courageous statement, has pointed out to his fellow countrymen the peril of such a policy, very much as American observers have already done.

He deprecates all hatred and all measures tending to perpetuate animosity. He wants to see so complete a victory that the methods by which the present war was brought about can never be resorted to again, and he wants "those guilty" to be punished. But he asks: "Is it wise to talk of banning a whole people for all time to come?" He regards the German people as having been deceived to their own great misfortune, under a harsh and tyrannous rule which silences any protest. Some day, he thinks, when they have learned the truth, they will overthrow that rule. Britain's quarrel is, and should remain, a quarrel with the German government rather than with the German nation. "Nations cannot hate one another forever, and the sooner they cease to do so the better for all of them."

"The talk we hear now about starting, after peace has been declared, a new war of trade, to follow the war of arms, has immense capacities for mischief. Such a trade war would prolong, would embitter afresh those hatreds that ought to be allowed to die. If severe terms are to be imposed, let this be done only so far as is necessary for securing future peace, not in a vindictive spirit, which, in perpetuating hatreds, would end by relighting the flames of war."

These are the words of true statesmanship. They should be heeded in England. They represent the most enlightened British policy, and the only policy that can win the approval of the American people.

AN EXPENSIVE WINTER

There's no dodging the fact that it's going to be a hard winter for the poor, and an expensive winter for everybody else. The cost of nearly all the necessities of life is steadily mounting, especially the cost of food-stuffs. Figures gathered by the federal department of agriculture show that the prices of farm products averaged 22 per cent higher last month than in September a year ago. The retail increase, as reported from various large cities, is still greater.

Flour is higher than at any previous time since the civil war, being 60 per cent more than last year. Beef has gone up 12 per cent, lamb and chicken 20 per cent, cheese 23 per cent, leg of mutton 33 per cent, onions 50 per cent, cabbage 40 per cent, potatoes more than 100 per cent. It is much the same with nearly all goods bought at the grocery, meat shop or bakery.

Clothing, hats, shoes, stoves, carpets and household supplies in general demand a greater outlay. Domestic service is more expensive. Hardly anything seems cheaper except automobiles, and the gain there is counteracted by the high cost of gasoline and oil.

The redeeming feature of the situation is that most of us have more money than usual to pay for things. The nation as a whole is undeniably making money—its income is much greater than its expenses. But for the humbler classes of wage-workers, and for the business or professional man on a small fixed salary, the problem is serious.

Velocity of Raindrops.

Of course we all know that it would be an utter impossibility for storm clouds to form and rain to fall were it not for the miles of atmosphere that rises above our heads. But, supposing it were possible for human beings to exist in an atmosphere that only rose to a level with their mouths and that storm clouds could form in the region outside such a low grade atmosphere, then every raindrop would prove as fatal to earthly creatures as if it were a steel bullet fired from a dynamite gun.—London Nature.

NO TRADE WAR

It is reassuring to hear one strong British voice raised in warning against the proposed British trade war against Germany after the present conflict is over. Lord Bryce, in a clear and courageous statement, has pointed out to his fellow countrymen the peril of such a policy, very much as American observers have already done.

He deprecates all hatred and all measures tending to perpetuate animosity. He wants to see so complete a victory that the methods by which the present war was brought about can never be resorted to again, and he wants "those guilty" to be punished. But he asks: "Is it wise to talk of banning a whole people for all time to come?" He regards the German people as having been deceived to their own great misfortune, under a harsh and tyrannous rule which silences any protest. Some day, he thinks, when they have learned the truth, they will overthrow that rule. Britain's quarrel is, and should remain, a quarrel with the German government rather than with the German nation. "Nations cannot hate one another forever, and the sooner they cease to do so the better for all of them."

"The talk we hear now about starting, after peace has been declared, a new war of trade, to follow the war of arms, has immense capacities for mischief. Such a trade war would prolong, would embitter afresh those hatreds that ought to be allowed to die. If severe terms are to be imposed, let this be done only so far as is necessary for securing future peace, not in a vindictive spirit, which, in perpetuating hatreds, would end by relighting the flames of war."

These are the words of true statesmanship. They should be heeded in England. They represent the most enlightened British policy, and the only policy that can win the approval of the American people.

AN EXPENSIVE WINTER

There's no dodging the fact that it's going to be a hard winter for the poor, and an expensive winter for everybody else. The cost of nearly all the necessities of life is steadily mounting, especially the cost of foodstuffs. Figures gathered by the federal department of agriculture show that the prices of farm products averaged 22 per cent higher last month than in September a year ago. The retail increase, as reported from various large cities, is still greater.

Flour is higher than at any previous time since the civil war, being 60 per cent more than last year. Beef has gone up 12 per cent, lamb and chicken 20 per cent, cheese 23 per cent, leg of mutton 33 per cent, onions 50 per cent, cabbage 40 per cent, potatoes more than 100 per cent. It is much the same with nearly all goods bought at the grocery, meat shop or bakery.

Clothing, hats, shoes, stoves, carpets and household supplies in general demand a greater outlay. Domestic service is more expensive. Hardly anything seems cheaper except automobiles, and the gain there is counteracted by the high cost of gasoline and oil.

The redeeming feature of the situation is that most of us have more money than usual to pay for things. The nation as a whole is undeniably making money—its income is much greater than its expenses. But for the humbler classes of wage-workers, and for the business or professional man on a small fixed salary, the problem is serious.

Velocity of Raindrops.

Of course we all know that it would be an utter impossibility for storm clouds to form and rain to fall were it not for the miles of atmosphere that rises above our heads. But, supposing it were possible for human beings to exist in an atmosphere that only rose to a level with their mouths and that storm clouds could form in the region outside such a low grade atmosphere, then every raindrop would prove as fatal to earthly creatures as if it were a steel bullet fired from a dynamite gun.—London Nature.

Macready's Caustic Reply.
A scapegrace baron pawned the coronet he had worn at the coronation of Queen Victoria. Having a slight acquaintance with Macready, the tragedian, he wrote to the actor offering to sell the pawn ticket and suggesting that the redeemed item of headgear would be an interesting theatrical "property." Macready replied with characteristic sarcasm that if the thing had been owned by a nobleman of mark who had got into straitened circumstances he would have favorably considered the application. But he did not think his stock of "properties" would be improved by the addition of a gilded coronet that had been worn by a rumpskull and pawned by a prodigal.

Lion Signs in England.

Lions have always been and are now very favorite signs in England—lions white, black, red, brown, golden, yellow—red being the most common. Probably the Red Lion originated with the badge of John of Gaunt, duke of Lancaster, who married the daughter of Don Pedro, king of Leon and Castile, and who adopted the lion rampant gules of Leon to represent his claim to the throne. Under Richard and John lions became the settled arms of England and were generally used by those who could find any claim.—London Mail.

A Frequent Occurrence.

A colored man employed by an Atlanta merchant was found to be short in his market book accounts and was accordingly taken to task. He blamed the grocer, claiming that he had tampered with the book.

Whereupon the employer remonstrated further, saying:

"The account seems to be all right. Tom. Figures don't lie."
"Ah know, sah," said Tom, "but hars do figger, dat's shore."—New York Times.

Discussion of the Present Government

BY GEORGE G. HILL.
(Written for the Republican National Committee)

Is it not small of Governor Hughes to devote so much time to attacking the Wilson administration because of its betrayal of civil service reform? Of what general interest is it that the democrats have created a few more offices and appointed "deserving democrats" to places formerly filled by republicans.

Betrayal of civil service reform means waste of the people's money. Is that a small matter? Civil service reform means appointing and keeping employed competent men. The appointment of men merely because they are "deserving democrats" means, in practice, the appointment of incompetent men, just as does the replacing of competent democrats with inexperienced republicans chosen simply because of their service to the party.

The Wilson administration has created not "a few" but thousands of needless useless offices, and has filled these places and those of thousands of experienced men with incompetents. Of course, it generally takes three incompetents, or more, to do the same work that was performed by two trained and experienced men.

When it becomes necessary to tax every man who runs a little theatre, according to its seating capacity, to impose taxes on every billiard and pool table, to add taxes to the expenses of every farmer and businessman who has to borrow money to conduct his business, is it not of importance whether the expenses of the government are unnecessarily increased by using its funds to reward fellow political workers, instead of conducting the government's business economically with men who can and will give value received for the wages they draw?

What would you think of the manager of a creamery who, immediately he was appointed, let out half the competent, experienced men and put in their places his sons and nephews and friends, putting two of them on the payroll for every one let out? That is what the Wilson administration has been doing and that is what Governor Hughes promises he will not do. That is what has, in large part, made it necessary for the democrats to impose various and onerous special taxes. No one objects to a man taking care of his friends, but he should not do it at the expense of other people. The democratic administration has taken excellent care of its friends, but it has done it at the expense of all the people.

Rochester Oil
Boys Reunion

Rochester, Minn., Oct. 14—In the "seventies" and "eighties" John Sullivan was the janitor of the old Central school in Rochester. He was the official bell ringer. It was whispered that he used to give the rope a few extra tugs to save some youngsters from getting a "tardy" mark. John Sullivan, now 83 years old, is one of the honor guests at a reunion of the "boys" of that period, held here today and tomorrow.

From all parts of the United States the boys have come. The first thing on the program this afternoon was taking a picture of the old school house steps with John Sullivan in the center ringing the bell.

Bishops, United States senators, judges, college presidents, railroad officials, farmers, famous surgeons and even State Treasurer A. C. Gooding and others have lost their dignity today and are frolicking around as they did twenty-five and thirty years ago.

At the banquet this evening Judge C. M. Start, former chief justice of the supreme court, and Matt Markham, 91, Rochester's oldest citizens will divide honors with John Sullivan, the bell ringer.

The reunion is for the boys who are now between 45 and 60 who lived in Rochester in the early days.

A special train from Minneapolis arrived this noon. It alone brought more than a hundred "Old Boys."

Baseball and the Marines.

Americans are lately the best bomb and grenade throwers in the world and are capable of waging wonderful trench warfare in case of hostilities, say United States marine corps officers. "The average American youth early learns to throw a baseball with speed and accuracy, and it is because of that we, as a nation, are especially fitted to wage the modern war of the trenches. Baseball is encouraged at all our stations, and the skill displayed by marines—even untrained recruits—in the bomb and grenade throwing practice is really remarkable," said a marine corps officer.

Ancient Preservation of the Dead.

Herodotus gives a good description of the manner in which the early Ethiopians preserved their dead. Having thoroughly dried the corpse, they plastered it over with a paste made of gypsum and then painted the face and exposed parts so as to make them look as natural as possible. Dead bodies served in this manner remained intact for hundreds of years.—London Globe.

Aptly Described.

"I have been courting her for two years," said the desolate one, "and I am certain that she will refuse me when I propose."

"Ah, that is interesting," said the amateur photographer—"a sort of undeveloped negative."—Pittsburgh Press.

Defined.

"Freddie," said the teacher, "can you tell me the meaning of the word 'desert'?"

"Sure I can," replied Freddie. "Desert is the stuff you get a little bit of for eating a whole lot of things you don't like."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

As the Years Go By.

The letterhead of a certain lawyer bears a legend that savors of sound philosophy. It runs, "I am anxious for business, but have passed the experimental age and am now demanding cash for my services."—Case and Comment.

Macready's Caustic Reply.

A scapegrace baron pawned the coronet he had worn at the coronation of Queen Victoria. Having a slight acquaintance with Macready, the tragedian, he wrote to the actor offering to sell the pawn ticket and suggesting that the redeemed item of headgear would be an interesting theatrical "property." Macready replied with characteristic sarcasm that if the thing had been owned by a nobleman of mark who had got into straitened circumstances he would have favorably considered the application. But he did not think his stock of "properties" would be improved by the addition of a gilded coronet that had been worn by a rumsnuff and pawned by a profligate.

Lion Signs In England.

Lions have always been and are now very favorite signs in England—lions white, black, red, brown, golden, yellow—red being the most common. Probably the Red Lion originated with the badge of John of Gaunt, duke of Lancaster, who married the daughter of Don Pedro, king of Leon and Castile, and who adopted the lion rampant gules of Leon to represent his claim to the throne. Under Richard and John lions became the settled arms of England and were generally used by those who could find any claim.—London Mail.

A Frequent Occurrence.

A colored man employed by an Atlanta merchant was found to be short in his market book accounts and was accordingly taken to task. He blamed the grocer, claiming that he had tampered with the book.

Whereupon the employer remonstrated further, saying:

"The account seems to be all right. Tom. Figures don't lie."

"Ah know, sah," said Tom, "but Iars do figger, dat's shore."—New York Times.

PERSIA'S SORROWFUL TREE.

It Blooms Only at Night and Appears Withered in Daytime.

In faroff Persia there grows a shrub which is called the sorrowful tree. Another name for this tree is the night Jessamine or the sad tree. The reason why it is called the sad or sorrowful tree is because it blooms only at night. When the first star appears in the sky the first bud opens on the wonderful tree. As the evening advances the buds open more rapidly until the tree is covered with a delicate bloom and it appears like one vast flower. The bloom is quite fragrant and the odor is like the perfume of the evening primrose. As the stars begin to grow dim and the dawn approaches the flowers begin to fade, and by the time the sun has risen not a flower can be found on the tree.

During the hours of daylight the tree appears to be withering as if it had been injured in some manner, but in reality it is simply regaining strength in order to put new blossoms on the following night.

This tree is held in high esteem by the natives of the country where it grows and is looked upon as a curiosity by florists throughout the world. When cut down these trees send up sprouts from the roots that will mature into a flowering tree in a very short time.—Apples of Gold.

Discussion of the
Present Government

BY GEORGE G. HILL,
(Written for the Republican)

National Committee)
Is it not small of Governor Hughes to devote so much time to attacking the Wilson administration because of its betrayal of civil service reform? Of what general interest is it that the democrats have created a few more offices and appointed "deserving democrats" to places formerly filled by republicans.

Betrayal of civil service reform means waste of the people's money. Is that a small matter? Civil service reform means appointing and keeping employed competent men. The appointment of men merely because they are "deserving democrats" means, in practice, the appointment of incompetent men, just as does the replacing of competent democrats with inexperienced republicans chosen simply because of their service to the party.

The Wilson administration has created not "a few" but thousands of needless useless offices, and has filled these places and those of thousands of experienced men with incompetents. Of course, it generally takes three incompetents, or more, to do the same work that was performed by two trained and experienced men.

When it becomes necessary to tax every man who runs a little theatre, according to its seating capacity, to impose taxes on every billiard and pool table, to add taxes to the expenses of every farmer and businessman who has to borrow money to conduct his business, is it not of importance whether the expenses of the government are unnecessarily increased by using its funds to reward fellow political workers, instead of conducting the government's business economically with men who can and will give value received for the wages they draw?

What would you think of the manager of a creamery who, immediately he was appointed, let out half the competent, experienced men and put in their places his sons and nephews and friends, putting two of them on the payroll for every one let out? That is what the Wilson administration has been doing and that is what Governor Hughes promises he will not do. That is what has, in large part, made it necessary for the democrats to impose various and onerous special taxes. No one objects to a man taking care of his friends, but he should not do it at the expense of other people. The democratic administration has taken excellent care of its friends, but it has done it at the expense of all the people.

Relieved.

"Where did you get these examples of faultily constructed sentences?" asked Dr. Campbell, the great rhetorician, of a student.

"Out of one of your books, doctor."

"What! Out of one of my books?"

"Yes, sir; out of your 'Rhetoric.'"

"Out of my 'Rhetoric!'" roared the doctor. "Impossible! Never did I make use of such language. You are mistaken, badly mistaken. But—but—where in my 'Rhetoric' did you find such composition?" he demanded angrily.

"In the part 'Sentences to Be Corrected.'"

"O-h-h-h! A-h-h-h! Yes, yes," said the relieved doctor.

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

Can you tell me something about the most popular methods of engine lubrication?

There are seven common forms of motor lubrication. The simplest is the full splash system, in which oil dips on the lower ends of the connecting rods splash oil from pools in the bottom of the crank case into the cylinders and bearings. Part of the oil is fed to the crank shaft bearings through bored holes above the dipper, part is splashed on to the walls of the cylinders and lubricates the cylinders, pistons and piston rings, and another part is splashed into the hollow pistons where it collects under the piston heads and drops through slots cut in the upper ends of the rods and lubricates the wrist pins. The cam shaft bearings catch the oil in pockets and feed it through holes bored in them to the bearings. Another system is the splash with circulating pump. The oil is drawn from the reservoir in the sump of the motor or from a separate reservoir sometimes employed by a circulating pump and delivered to a trough extending the full length of the crank case. From the trough the oil overflows into separate depressions in the trough, and the dipper on the connecting rods splash the oil from these depressions. Lubrication is gained in the same way as in the full splash system described above.

In the pump over and splash system the oil is drawn from a reservoir in the pump of the motor by a circulating pump and forced through tubes leading to pockets from whence it feeds by gravity to the main bearings. Part of the oil circulated by the pump is sometimes discharged over the distributing gears for their lubrication. Another part of the oil is forced by the pump into a trough such as is used in the splash with circulating pump system described above, and lubrication is brought about in the same way. After having passed through the various bearings the oil is returned to the sump through a strainer, where it enters the circulating pump and travels its route again.

The force feed and splash system is similar. Oil is forced from the sump under pressure through tubes to the main bearings. Another part of the lubricant is forced into a trough under the connecting rods, and lubrication is carried on as described in the two systems just mentioned.

In the pump over system splash is entirely done away with. Oil is fed from the circulating pump through tubes into pockets, from whence it feeds by gravity to the main bearings. Oil from the main bearings is thrown by centrifugal force through ducts bored in the crank shaft to the crank pin bearings. The oil escaping from each side of the crank pin bearings is thrown off in all directions, thus lubricating the cylinders, pistons and rings. Another part is thrown into the hollow pistons, where it collects under the piston heads and drops through slots cut in the upper ends of the connecting rods, thus lubricating the wrist pins.

In the separate force feed system a lubricator, driven by chains or gears, is attached to the side of the crank case. The oil is forced under pressure through tubes leading from the outside lubricator to the main bearings, and the motor is oiled in the same manner as in the pump over system. The oil is fed at its rate of consumption and is not returned to the lubricator.

In what is known as the force feed system oil is forced from a circulating pump under pressure through tubes to the main bearings, and part of the oil from the front main bearing feeds into a basin in which the crank shaft gear dips. This gear splashes oil on to the other distributing gears. The surplus oil in this basin overflows and returns to the pump. The oil under pressure escapes from each side of the crank pin bearings and is thrown off in all directions, lubricating the cylinders, pistons, rings and wrist pins. In this system the connecting rods do not dip in the oil.

The full force feed system is the type where every bearing is lubricated under pressure from the circulating pump. Wrist pins are hollowed, and oil is forced to them through tubes on the sides of the connecting rods or through the center of the rods. This same tube forces oil to the cylinders, pistons and rings.

To have carbon removed from an engine, is it advisable to have it burned out, or is this injurious to the motor?

There is no harmful result in burning carbon from a motor. The job cannot be as thoroughly satisfactory as having the motor torn down and the carbon scraped, however.

How can I tell if my connecting rod bearing is all right? Is it possible to do this with a hammer? Should it run somewhat tightly when testing by hand—that is, when I turn the crank shaft over?

With a little experience you should be able to tap the bearing cap lightly with a hammer and tell if there is any play. It should not run too tightly, but snugly, so that the shaft can be rocked by hand when the compression is relieved by opening the petcocks.

How can a switch be put on different makes of starting and lighting systems to keep from charging the battery when fully charged, or is it only necessary to place a switch so as to open one side of your generator line? Does it harm the generator?

With the majority of equipment a switch put on the open side of the generator line is all that is necessary. It cannot harm the generator in any way.

How can one tell platinum points from tungsten points, and what difference does it make with the running of the car when one uses tungsten magnet points or genuine platinum points?

The only way to make certain of a composition of sparking points is chemical analysis. Tungsten magnet points are claimed to give at least as good service as platinum points.

Is it possible to drive a chain driven car if one chain is broken?

It is possible only by fastening the free sprocket in some way so as to prevent it turning, and then it would not be advisable to drive for any great distance.

Due to the action of the differential, the sprocket on the side where the chain was broken, having no resistance or load to carry, would revolve just twice as fast as the differential frame itself. The sprocket on the other side, where the chain is intact, having a load to carry, would be motionless.

Why does running with a late spark tend to overheat a motor?

Overheating is due to a late spark because combustion takes place so late that the gases have not had opportunity to be cooled by expansion before the exhaust opens. The result is that the engine runs much hotter than it would if explosion occurred on upper dead center, as it is supposed to do.

What preparation do you recommend for cleaning the highly polished reflectors of electric headlights without scratching them?

Use a little jeweler's rough or whitening, applying with a moistened cloth and rubbing dry with another cloth.

While the engine of my car is cold there is a clicking noise somewhere, but after it is heated up a little the noise almost disappears. I just put in a new wristpin, set the valves and adjusted the bearings. Can you tell me the cause and remedy of this?

It is probably a piston slap, due to one or more of the pistons having become worn from long usage. It is impossible to diagnose a knock from the description you give.

What is the balance between piston displacement and crank shaft speed? By this I mean that a 275 cubic inch engine will permit of a higher crank shaft speed than a 450 or 600 cubic inch engine. The point I wish to know is, what is the best balance to make between piston displacement and crank shaft speed?

You can employ practically the same piston speed for any bore of automobile engine between two and one-half and four inches, which covers nearly all the sizes in use today. Crank shaft speed bears no relation to piston displacement, but simply to stroke. A good engine should deliver a little more than its formula rating at a piston speed of 1,000 feet per minute. It should be able to run at a piston speed of 2,000 feet per minute, and it is not unusual to find the peak of a horsepower curve just about coincident with a piston speed of 2,000 feet per minute. It is only when the stroke is six inches that this means a crank shaft speed of 2,000 revolutions per minute.

What should be the condition of the compression chamber in a motor when working to best advantage? Should the piston head and compression space be dry and sooty or in an oily condition?

The condition of the combustion chamber should be as clean as possible. An oily condition indicates too much oil and imperfect combustion. The cylinder will necessarily be sooty on account of the products of combustion. While there should be no carbon residue, nevertheless it is impossible to realize such ideal conditions.

In taking the valves out of my motor I notice that the exhaust valves are much spotted. One valve is slightly warped. Will you kindly advise me whether it is necessary to get all new valves or whether it is necessary to get the one new one only?

You have allowed the valves to go too long without grinding; hence the pitting of the valve seats. It will be necessary to grind the valves until these pits or spots disappear and a clean, smooth seat is obtained. In the case of a warped valve stem it is best to replace this with a new one. In replacing it will also be necessary to grind in order to obtain a proper seating of the valve. The exhaust valves especially should be ground frequently. In order to obtain the best results from a motor it is advisable to reset all the valves every 2,000 or 3,000 miles. If this is done frequently there is less work, and much better results are obtained from the engine.

WHAT WILL THE WOMEN DO?

"He Kept Us Out of War" Regarded by Democrats as Strong Argument to Gain Female Votes—Senate Loses Several "Jims"—Bourne Takes Hand at Predicting.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—An effort is being made to make it appear that the campaign of 1916 is like that of twenty years ago, when in 1896 Bryan was running for president the first time. The only parallel that can be made of it is the confidence which the Republicans have that they will carry the eastern states and the battle they are making for the western states.

It is true that issues have arisen which are susceptible of creating a feeling in the west antagonistic to the Republicans, or, rather, of favoring the Democrats, notably the eight hour law for the railroad trainmen; but, according to reports received in Washington, that is something that is cutting both ways in the west as well as in the east. No, this campaign is not very much like the first Bryan campaign. One thing that makes it different is that there is no Mark Hanna on either side.

Campbell Rainbow Chasing.

Not of his own volition, but because he wanted to accede to the request of his good friend, Alvah Martin, the Republican national committee member for Virginia, Congressman Phil Campbell of Kansas made a speech in Norfolk. Campbell was deeply impressed with the idea that by a proper effort Virginia might be made a doubtful state. It is true that in the days of old General Mahone and his Readjuster party Virginia was a doubtful state, and the Republicans came near carrying it in 1888, but since that time the Democrats have been as sure of Virginia as of Georgia. Campbell says that the Democrats of Norfolk want a change in the national administration, but when the time comes for voting they will be found supporting the Democratic ticket.

Japan Antagonistic.

J. A. Holmes of New York, a merchant with interests in the orient, returned from the far east and came to Washington, where he told people that Japan was antagonistic to the United States and that the Japanese were spoiling for a fight. He stopped at Honolulu and said that the sentiment of the Japanese in those islands was very hostile to this country.

The appointment of Field Marshal Terauchi to succeed Count Okuma as premier of Japan is taken by many to bear out this statement. Okuma was a friend of the United States, while Terauchi's fondness for this country is lukewarm, to say the least.

It may be true, as we hear on every side, that there is not a great power that does not hate this country. And even our neighboring republics on this continent seem to dislike us.

Women in Politics.

In spite of the indorsement which Hughes gave the federal suffrage amendment and the refusal of Wilson to support anything but state action and control of the subject, the reports from the west indicate that the Republicans are somewhat apprehensive that the woman suffrage states may vote for Wilson. The slogan, "He's kept us out of war," is being used with a great deal of effect, and women are being told by the Democrats that Hughes means war if elected. After the advanced step Hughes has taken and the large Republican vote in the house for the suffrage amendment it would seem rather strange if the women in the suffrage states should vote for the Democrats. The course of the suffrage states at the election will be watched with interest.

Losing the "Jims."

It so happened that a number of Democrats in the senate who gave the administration a great deal of trouble during the past four years were named James. "The Jims" they were called and were often on the firing line. It looks as if several of the "Jims" would not be in the senate next time. Clarke of Arkansas has been claimed by death, Jim Martine and Jim Reed are fighting for re-election. James O'Gorman declined to be a candidate again.

Bourne on the Active List.

Jonathan Bourne is still on the active list. He comes forth with documents and claims from his eye and occasionally makes statements about what is going to happen. His latest is that Hughes will carry every northern state and that the Republicans will elect enough senators to control the senate. Jonathan does not have to make these predictions. There is always a man at national headquarters to make claims.

Are Very Much Interested.

The District of Columbia Republicans are making a very great display of interest. They want Hughes to come here and make a speech. In asking a man who is already overworked to make a speech in a city where there are no votes they show an unusual degree of interest in the outcome next month.

Famous Sentences.

Thirty days!
I pronounce you "husband and wife."
You'll not stir a boot outside this house tonight!
Johnny Doe, you'll stay after school and write "obey" 500 times!—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Very Reprehensible.

"Well, ma, I gave young Mr. Smithers his cone last night."
"Law sakes, Amelia, no girl ought to be giving young men presents like that."—Baltimore American.

"Your dog always howls when he sees me coming."

What should be the condition of the compression chamber in a motor when working to best advantage? Should the piston head and compression space be dry and sooty or in an oily condition?

The condition of the combustion chamber should be as clean as possible. An oily condition indicates too much oil and imperfect combustion. The cylinder will necessarily be sooty on account of the products of combustion. While there should be no carbon residue, nevertheless it is impossible to realize such ideal conditions.

In taking the valves out of my motor I notice that the exhaust valves are much spotted. One valve is slightly warped. Will you kindly advise me whether it is necessary to get all new valves or whether it is necessary to get the one new one only?

You have allowed the valves to go too long without grinding; hence the pitting of the valve seats. It will be necessary to grind the valves until these pits or spots disappear and a clean, smooth seat is obtained. In the case of a warped valve stem it is best to replace this with a new one. In replacing it will also be necessary to grind in order to obtain a proper seating of the valve. The exhaust valves especially should be ground frequently. In order to obtain the best results from a motor it is advisable to reseat all the valves every 2,000 or 3,000 miles. If this is done frequently there is less work, and much better results are obtained from the engine.

THIS CAMPAIGN NOT LIKE 1896

G. O. P. Confidence and Western Aspect Only Parallels.

WHAT WILL THE WOMEN DO?

"He Kept Us Out of War" Regarded by Democrats as Strong Argument to Gain Female Votes—Senate Loses Several "Jims"—Bourne Takes Hand at Predicting.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—An effort is being made to make it appear that the campaign of 1916 is like that of twenty years ago, when in 1896 Bryan was running for president the first time. The only parallel that can be made of it is the confidence which the Republicans have that they will carry the eastern states and the battle they are making for the western states.

It is true that issues have arisen which are susceptible of creating a feeling in the west antagonistic to the Democrats, notably the eight hour law for the railroad trainmen; but, according to reports received in Washington, that is something that is cutting both ways in the west as well as in the east. No, this campaign is not very much like the first Bryan campaign. One thing that makes it different is that there is no Mark Hanna on either side.

Campbell Rainbow Chasing.

Not of his own volition, but because he wanted to accede to the request of his good friend, Alvah Martin, the Republican national committee member for Virginia, Congressman Phil Campbell of Kansas made a speech in Norfolk. Campbell was deeply impressed with the idea that by a proper effort Virginia might be made a doubtful state. It is true that in the days of old General Mahone and his Readjuster party Virginia was a doubtful state, and the Republicans came near carrying it in 1888, but since that time the Democrats have been as sure of Virginia as of Georgia. Campbell says that the Democrats of Norfolk want a change in the national administration. But when the time comes for voting they will be found supporting the Democratic ticket.

Japan Antagonistic.

J. A. Holmes of New York, a merchant with interests in the orient, returned from the far east and came to Washington, where he told people that Japan was antagonistic to the United States and that the Japanese were spilling for a fight. He stopped at Honolulu and said that the sentiment of the Japanese in those islands was very hostile to this country.

The appointment of Field Marshal Terauchi to succeed Count Okuma as premier of Japan is taken by many to bear out this statement. Okuma was a friend of the United States, while Terauchi's fondness for this country is lukewarm, to say the least.

It may be true, as we hear on every side, that there is not a great power that does not hate this country. And even our neighboring republics on this continent seem to dislike us.

Women In Politics.

In spite of the indorsement which Hughes gave the federal suffrage amendment and the refusal of Wilson to support anything but state action and control of the subject, the reports from the west indicate that the Republicans are somewhat apprehensive that the woman suffrage states may vote for Wilson. The slogan, "Life's kept us out of war," is being used with a great deal of effect, and women are being told by the Democrats that Hughes means war if elected. After the advanced step Hughes has taken and the large Republican vote in the house for the suffrage amendment it would seem rather strange if the women in the suffrage states should vote for the Democrats. The course of the suffrage states at the election will be watched with interest.

Losing the "Jims."

It so happened that a number of Democrats in the senate who gave the administration a great deal of trouble during the past four years were named James. "The Jims" they were called and were often on the firing line. It looks as if several of the "Jims" would not be in the senate next time. Clarke of Arkansas has been claimed by death. Jim Martine and Jim Reed are fighting for re-election. James O'Gorman declined to be a candidate again.

Bourne on the Active List.

Jonathan Bourne is still on the active list. He comes forth with documents and claims from his eyrie and occasionally makes statements about what is going to happen. His latest is that Hughes will carry every northern state and that the Republicans will elect enough senators to control the senate. Jonathan does not have to make these predictions. There is always a man at national headquarters to make claims.

Are Very Much Interested.

The District of Columbia Republicans are making a very great display of interest. They want Hughes to come here and make a speech. In asking a man who is already overworked to make a speech in a city where there are no votes they show an unusual degree of interest in the outcome next month.

Famous Sentences.

Thirty days! I pronounce you "husband and wife." You'll not stir a boot outside this house tonight! Johnny Doe, you'll stay after school and write "obey" 500 times!—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Very Reprehensible.

"Well, ma, I gave young Mr. Smithers his conge last night." "Law sakes, Amelia, no girl ought to be giving young men presents like that."—Baltimore American.

Poor Consolation.

"Your dog always howls when he sees me coming." "Yes. He is rude enough to express what most people feel."—Baltimore American.

Snake Root.

Snake charmers take snake root and put it into an earthenware pot with a snake, and he soon becomes stupefied and seems torpid and too weak to fight or bite. They put the snake under the influence of the root before pulling his fangs.

The Egyptian vulture was the chief scavenger of the land of Pharaoh.

FROM STATE TO FEDERAL COURT

That Arthur Mampel, caretaker at the government dam at Gull lake, arrested by Cass county officials and charged with assaulting Mike Setula, is more properly under federal court jurisdiction is the contention of Mampel's attorneys, who claim Mampel was in the employ of the United States at the time of the shooting, that Setula was trespassing on federal property and that Mampel was acting in the discharge of his duties when he ordered Setula off the grounds.

Judge Page Morris will decide whether federal or state court will have jurisdiction. Mampel was surrendered by his bondsmen in the state action and to bring matters to a head habeas corpus proceedings have been started for the release of Mampel.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Stripping in Progress on the State Lease Forty Adjoining Thompson Mine

THE HILL CREST TO SHIP ORE

E. J. Longyear Co. Has 3 Drills at One Strike Reported at Barrows

Stripping is in progress at the state lease forty next to the Thompson pit in Crosby, in charge of Capt. Wm. Wearne, of the Inland Steel Co. This is the first state ore mine to be operated on the Cuyuna iron range. A drift had previously been run underground, the ore located and 50 tons taken out. One shovel is at work. The Thompson pit is shipping 80 cars a day.

The new trestle at the Meacham mine in Crosby is partly finished and stockpiling is now in progress. Ore shipping will soon start up at the Hill Crest pit west of Ironton. The Northern Pacific railway has completed switch tracks south of the Soo line. A night shovel has been added and the ground is being gotten in shape for early shipping. The hydraulic plant is to be started up again and new ground stripped. Last winter the mine worked up to January 10 in its stripping operations. A new coal dock has been added to the plant. It is expected that the Breitung will resume work at the Hopkins mine. The Cuyuna-Duluth stockpile in Ironton has been shipped, and underground work and stockpiling is in full sway.

The Bamberg Exploration Co. are doing considerable drilling for the Croft mine in Crosby. The Adbar mine or Tabert shaft on the south range a few miles east of Brainerd, has resumed work. The shaft is down about 73 feet. New boilers are being installed. Capt. Wm. Treloar, considered one of the best mining captains on the range, will again have charge of further development work. The E. J. Longyear Co., with headquarters in Brainerd, has drills at work in section 20, township 47, range 29; section 14, township 46, range 29; section 12, township 43, range 32. The Potts Exploration Co. of Deerwood, has a drill added to the Wolford district.

C. H. Rogers of the Virginia Rainy Lake Lumber Co. and Edward Boyle, assistant county attorney of Virginia, were in Barrows and Brainerd. Mr. Boyle is the treasurer of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. The drill operating in section 10, just east of Barrows, has been moved about 25 feet north. It is reported that they struck ore in the first hole, and if this is true, it will mean a big thing for Barrows. A drill is also working on the line between the Brainerd Mining Co. property and the Buckman property. High grade ore is being found on these two properties. At the Barrows Mining Co. Rowley mine, Capt. W. J. Nicholas is in charge of development work. The captain recently made a trip to Duluth and Virginia.

At Manganese the Soo line have about 50 men putting in a spur to the Merritt mine where a shaft is now being sunk. The McKenzie mine shaft is going down rapidly. They expect to be hoisting ore in a short time. The Hoch mine and the Ferro mine are both shipping high grade manganiferous ore. These two mines are considered to be among the best manganiferous mines in the states and there is a big demand for their ore.

TO HEAR APPEAL

Case of Minneapolis & Rainy River Railway to Come Before Judge W. S. McClenahan

Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, will next week hear the appeal of the Minneapolis and Rainy River railway from the decision of the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission restraining it from abandoning and taking up a spur track of its system between Stanley and Dora Lake in Itasca county near the Canadian boundary line.

The spur runs through cut over timber country and the question with the road is whether the railway can get enough tariff to keep it in operation.

Settlers along the spur maintained the railway was a common carrier, that it was under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission and won the first skirmish in the battle when the commission so held and issued a restraining order checking the railway from taking up its spur track, as had been first ordered.

The Rainy Lake company aims to show the line was only a logging road and that it cannot be compelled to operate such spur when the revenue ceased.

At the hearing in Brainerd the State Railroad and Warehouse commission will be represented by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, and Charles C. Haupt, former United States district attorney, and S. Carman, Minneapolis attorney, will appear for the railway company.

SUITS FOR DUES

Chamber of Commerce Sues Delinquent Members in District Court

TRI-STATE SERVICE

Newly Acquired Toll Territory Throws Open Entire Cuyuna Range to Tri-State Users

The toll lines completed between Brainerd and Deerwood and connected with the Aitkin-Deerwood Telephone Co.'s switchboard at Deerwood, gives Brainerd subscribers access to Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna and River-ton.

Another line extending from Deerwood to Moose Lake has been completed. This line gives Tri-State subscribers everywhere access to the entire Cuyuna range.

This new territory is a valuable addition, from a Tri-State toll line point of view, and much credit for its successful completion is due R. F. Wilder, assistant commercial superintendent, who has handled the Brainerd situation.

RAISES FINE CELERY HERE

Bert Sabin, Who Has a Farm at Mission, Exhibits Celery the Equal of G. G. Hartley's

ENTITLED A PRIZE WINNER

Average Height is Two Feet Three Inches, all Tender, Luscious Stalks Produced

Celery standing two feet three inches high, the equal of any raised by G. G. Hartley, was exhibited in Brainerd Friday by Bert Sabin, who has a farm near Mission lake in section 35, three miles north of the Dr. Camp place.

The celery is known as the "Golden Self Blanching" kind. It requires rich dirt, a black loam, and the lake bottom land on Mr. Sabin's farm is therefore ideal ground for celery production.

Next year, said Mr. Sabin, he will have about an acre in celery. The Dispatch just can't help getting enthusiastic about celery as the force was given the opportunity to sample it and so knows what they are talking about.

LIKES THE WEST

Mrs. Mayme A. Plummer, Formerly Miss Peters, Writes From Walla Walla, Wash.

In a letter from Walla Walla, Wash., Mrs. Mayme A. Plummer, formerly Miss Peters, of this city, writes enthusiastically of the west. She refers to the glorious autumn weather, Jack Frost having been around but once so far, and then just the least bit. She writes:

"Beautiful sunshine every day and this wonderful empire, as it is called in the west, has been thrice blessed this year. Our crops have been wonderful. Wheat is bringing prices from $1.10 to $1.37 1/2 net per bushel and only about 60 per cent of this section's yield has been sold. Everybody seems prosperous this year in this part of the northwest and needless to say, happy."

"I like the west better every year. Seems good to live in 'God's Country,' where there is so much prosperity for everyone."

Mrs. Plummer calls attention to the heavy bank deposits in the Baker-Boyer National bank at Walla Walla, where she is employed as a stenographer. The bank has over $2,000,000 deposits.

William Rufus was killed by an arrow, either accidentally or with murderous intent. He died in the New forest. His body was stripped by tramps and the next day was found by a charcoal burner, who placed the naked corpse on his cart, hoping to receive a reward. On the way to Winchester the cart was upset, and the king's body fell in the mire. Covered with filth and black with charcoal, it arrived in Winchester, where it was buried in the cathedral. A few years later the tower fell and crushed the tomb, and 600 years after the Puritans rifled the grave and played football with the king's skull.

FROM STATE TO FEDERAL COURT

That Arthur Mampel, caretaker at the government dam at Gull lake, arrested by Cass county officials and charged with assaulting Mike Setula, is more properly under federal court jurisdiction is the contention of Mampel's attorneys, who claim Mampel was in the employ of the United States at the time of the shooting, that Setula was trespassing on federal property and that Mampel was acting in the discharge of his duties when he ordered Setula off the grounds.

Judge Page Morris will decide whether federal or state court will have jurisdiction. Mampel was surrendered by his bondsmen in the state action and to bring matters to a head habeas corpus proceedings have been started for the release of Mampel.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Stripping in Progress on the State Lease Forty Adjoining Thompson Mine

THE HILL CREST TO SHIP ORE

E. J. Longyear Co. Has 3 Drills at One Strike Reported at Barrows

Stripping is in progress at the state lease forty next to the Thompson pit in Crosby, in charge of Capt. Wm. Wearne, of the Inland Steel Co. This is the first state ore mine to be operated on the Cuyuna iron range. A drift had previously been run underground, the ore located and 50 tons taken out. One shovel is at work. The Thompson pit is shipping 80 cars a day.

The new trestle at the Meacham mine in Crosby is partly finished and stockpiling is now in progress. Ore shipping will soon start up at the Hill Crest pit west of Ironton. The Northern Pacific railway has completed switch tracks south of the Soo line. A night shovel has been added and the ground is being gotten in shape for early shipping. The hydraulic plant is to be started up again and new ground stripped. Last winter the mine worked up to January 10 in its stripping operations. A new coal dock has been added to the plant. It is expected that the Breitung mine will resume work at the Hopkins mine. The Cuyuna-Duluth stockpile in Ironton has been shipped, and underground work and stockpiling is in full swing.

The Bamberg Exploration Co. are doing considerable drilling for the Croft mine in Crosby. The Adair mine or Tabert shaft on the south range a few miles east of Brainerd, has resumed work. The shaft is down about 73 feet. New boilers are being installed. Capt. Wm. Treloar, considered one of the best mining captains on the range, will again have charge of further development work. The E. J. Longyear Co., with headquarters in Brainerd, has drills at work in section 20, township 47, range 29; section 14, township 46, range 29; section 12, township 43, range 32. The Potts Exploration Co. of Deerwood, has a drill added to the Wolford district.

C. H. Rogers of the Virginia Rainy Lake Lumber Co. and Edward Boyle, assistant county attorney of Virginia, were in Barrows and Brainerd. Mr. Boyle is the treasurer of the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. The drill operating in section 19, just east of Barrows, has been moved about 25 feet north. It is reported that they struck ore in the first hole, and if this is true, it will mean a big thing for Barrows. A drill is also working on the line between the Brainerd Mining Co. property and the Buckman property. High grade ore is being found on these two properties. At the Barrows Mining Co. Rowley mine, Capt. W. J. Nicholas is in charge of development work. The captain recently made a trip to Duluth and Virginia.

At Manganese the Soo line have about 50 men putting in a spur to the Merritt mine where a shaft is now being sunk. The McKenzie mine shaft is going down rapidly. They expect to be hoisting ore in a short time. The Hoch mine and the Ferro mine are both shipping high grade manganiferous ore. These two mines are considered to be among the best manganiferous mines in the states and there is a big demand for their ore.

TO HEAR APPEAL

Case of Minneapolis & Rainy River Railway to Come Before Judge W. S. McClenahan

Judge W. S. McClenahan, of the district court, will next week hear the appeal of the Minneapolis and Rainy River railway from the decision of the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission restraining it from abandoning and taking up a spur track of its system between Stanley and Dora Lake in Itasca county near the Canadian boundary line.

The spur runs through cut over timber country and the question with the road is whether the railway can set enough tariff to keep it in operation.

Settlers along the spur maintained the railway was a common carrier, that it was under the jurisdiction of the State Railroad and Warehouse commission and won the first skirmish in the battle when the commission so held and issued a restraining order checking the railway from taking up its spur track, as had been first ordered.

The Rainy Lake company aims to show the line was only a logging road and that it cannot be compelled to operate such spur when the revenue ceased.

At the hearing in Brainerd the State Railroad and Warehouse commission will be represented by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, and Charles C. Haupt, former United States district attorney, and S. Carman, Minneapolis attorney, will appear for the railway company.

TRI-STATE SERVICE

Newly Acquired Toll Territory Throws Open Entire Cuyuna Range to Tri-State Users

The toll lines completed between Brainerd and Deerwood and connected with the Atkin-Deerwood Telephone Co.'s switchboard at Deerwood, gives Brainerd subscribers access to Crosby, Ironton, Cuyuna and River-ton.

Another line extending from Deerwood to Moose Lake has been completed. This line gives Tri-State subscribers everywhere access to the entire Cuyuna range.

This new territory is a valuable addition, from a Tri-State toll line point of view, and much credit for its successful completion is due R. F. Wilder, assistant commercial superintendent, who has handled the Brainerd situation.

RAISES FINE CELERY HERE

Bert Sabin, Who Has a Farm at Mission, Exhibits Celery the Equal of G. G. Hartley's

ENTITLED A PRIZE WINNER

Average Height is Two Feet Three Inches, all Tender, Luscious Stalks Produced

Celery standing two feet three inches high, the equal of any raised by G. G. Hartley, was exhibited in Brainerd Friday by Bert Sabin, who has a farm near Mission lake in section 35, three miles north of the Dr. Camp place.

The celery is known as the "Golden Self Blanching" kind. It requires rich dirt, a black loam, and the lake bottom land on Mr. Sabin's farm is therefore ideal ground for celery production.

Next year, said Mr. Sabin, he will have about an acre in celery. The Dispatch just can't help getting enthusiastic about celery as the force was given the opportunity to sample it and so knows what they are talking about.

LIKES THE WEST

Mrs. Mayme A. Plummer, Formerly Miss Peters, Writes From Walla Walla, Wash.

In a letter from Walla Walla, Wash., Mrs. Mayme A. Plummer, formerly Miss Peters, of this city, writes enthusiastically of the west. She refers to the glorious autumn weather, Jack Frost having been around but once so far, and then just the least bit. She writes:

"Beautiful sunshine every day and this wonderful empire, as it is called in the west, has been thrice blessed this year. Our crops have been wonderful. Wheat is bringing prices from $1.10 to $1.37 1/2 net per bushel and only about 60 per cent of this section's yield has been sold. Everybody seems prosperous this year in this part of the northwest and needless to say, happy."

"I like the west better every year. Seems good to live in 'God's Country,' where there is so much prosperity for everyone."

Mrs. Plummer calls attention to the heavy bank deposits in the Baker-Boyer National bank at Walla Walla, where she is employed as a stenographer. The bank has over $2,000,000 deposits.

An English King's Death.

William Rufus was killed by an arrow, either accidentally or with murderous intent. He died in the New Forest. His body was stripped by tramps and the next day was found by a charcoal burner, who placed the naked corpse on his cart, hoping to receive a reward. On the way to Winchester the cart was upset, and the king's body fell in the mire. Covered with filth and black with charcoal, it arrived in Winchester, where it was buried in the cathedral. A few years later the tower fell and crushed the tomb, and 600 years after the Puritans rifled the grave and played football with the king's skull.

GREEK KING FEARS FOR ROUMANIANS

Convinced That Nation Will Be Crushed in Short Time.

WOULD SACRIFICE HIS THRONE

Constantine Declares Fall of Balkan Neighbor is Sure to Be Followed by Great German Advance—Allies Uncovered Plot in Athens.

London, Oct. 14.—"When a high diplomatic personage besought King Constantine to change his policy," the Daily Telegraph's Athens correspondent says, "the king replied:

"I prefer to lose my throne rather than endanger Greece. I am convinced that in fifteen days Roumania will exist no more.

"If Greece went into the war, then after the conquest of Roumania the irresistible German forces would be directed against Greece and she would share the fate of Serbia and Roumania."

According to other Athens dispatches received here, the entente allies sent their ultimatum to Greece because they had unearthed a royalist plot to fight the entente.

Allies Unearth Plot.

It was planned, the dispatch added, that if the allies should seek to coerce Greece into joining the war and try to force Eliphiros Venizelos upon King Constantine the king should retire northward along the railway, taking the troops with him, and concentrate at Trikala, in Thessaly, and lie entrenched there until the arrival of the German army, when he would strike in unison with them at the allies.

"Admiral du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet," a Reuter dispatch from Athens says, "addressed a complimentary note to the Greek government Wednesday, demanding on behalf of the allies the control of the Greek police, the prohibition of Greek citizens from carrying arms, the stoppage of sending war munitions to Thessaly and the lifting of the embargo on the transportation of Thessalian wheat.

"The Greek cabinet sat with the chief of the general staff until midnight discussing the note. The council was resumed in the morning, when all the demands of Admiral du Fournet were accepted.

"The British minister has visited M. Zolotas, the new Greek foreign minister, whereby the entente recognizes the new cabinet."

BRITISH DESTROYERS ACTIVE

Patrolling Waters Outside Three-Mile Limit to Protect Shippers.

Boston, Oct. 14.—The pilot of the Russian steamship Hesperus, which docked here, reported that a fast British destroyer was running at top speed across the mouth of Massachusetts bay, making a course from Cape May to Cape Ann just outside the three-mile limit. Other boats of similar type were reported by pilots who brought their ships to Boston.

The British ambassador at Washington has sent word to the British consul general that steamers ready for sea may proceed and the Lord Cromer probably will leave for Liverpool, the Cunard line says.

BROKERS SHORT $200,000

Federal Officers Investigating Chicago Firm of Barrett Brothers.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Barrett Brothers, brokers with offices in New York, Chicago and Denver, whose affairs are under investigation by federal officials and for whom search is being made, left unsecured claims estimated at $200,000, according to officers engaged in an inquiry into the affairs of the brothers—Wallace and John F. Barrett.

To meet the claims, federal officers said, there is about $5,000 deposits in local banking houses. There are more than 1,700 customers, according to the officers.

Colored Soldier to Hang.

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 14.—William White, negro trooper, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, was found guilty in United States district court of first degree murder and sentenced to be hanged by the United States marshal on the government reservation here on Friday, Dec. 15.

HARRY THAW AT MATTEAWAN—ONLY A VISIT.

Beacon, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Harry K. Thaw was back in Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane three years after his escape. He was not a prisoner, however, but dropped in for a social call on Superintendent Kieb.

He remarked that he knew the prisoners were but poorly supplied with tobacco and that he would see they had a liberal supply in the future.

KING FERDINAND.

Roumanian Ruler Appeals to Allies to Save His Country.

The London Times published an interview given to its correspondent with the Roumanian army by the king of Roumania in which the monarch appeals to the allies not to permit his country to suffer the fate of Serbia and Belgium.

"The Roumanians will not falter," the king said, "in their allegiance to the cause, nor can the enemy wear them from their faith in their allies."

REPORTS MEETING A GERMAN SUBMARINE

New York, Oct. 14.—A German submarine identifying herself as such by wireless and stating that she was "from Newport" was sighted more than 100 miles east of Nantucket light ship by a neutral ship now in port, it became known here. The submarine was moving in an easterly direction.

The submarine was sighted some distance from the neutral vessel which was signaled by wireless from the submarine asking her name and nationality. It was given and the question asked in turn: "Who are you?"

"German submarine from Newport, good-by," was the reply.

The assumption was that she was the U-53, responsible for the shipping raid of Sunday and this report is the latest on her whereabouts. The U-53 was last sighted prior to that time by the Greek liner Patris Monday morning.

Neutrality regulations of the nation whose flag the ship flies and specific orders with respect to their observance are given for withholding the name of the ship bringing the report here, but it is vouched for as correct by a high marine authority of this port who is in close touch with arriving steamships.

CHICAGO CHIEF OF POLICE IS ACCUSED

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Warrants charging Chief of Police Charles C. Healey with conspiracy and with malfeasance in office will be applied for by State's Attorney MacLay Hoyne.

"I shall probably ask for the arrest of other persons also," said Mr. Hoyne.

The charges are said to have had their root in the chief's administration of the law with regard to vice, saloons and gambling.

Information from the state's attorney's office was that 1,000 documents on the files taken from the office of Chief of Police Healey tend, in the opinion of State's Attorney Hoyne, to substantiate Mr. Hoyne's allegations of malfeasance in office against the chief.

DEATHS NOT DUE TO POISON

Authorities Now Believe Three Women Died From Gas Fumes.

Lancaster, O., Oct. 14.—A report received here by Coroner Peter Hugh from chemists at Columbus who examined the stomachs of the three women, Agnes and Alice Smetters and Mary Stretton, found dead seated in chairs at the Smetters home here Oct. 1, stated that no trace of poison was found in the stomachs or the piece of pie that had been found in the house partly eaten.

Officials now believe that the deaths were caused by gas fumes from a heater.

MINISTERS AND EDUCATORS RAID "BLIND PIGS."

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 14.—Ministers, college professors and prominent citizens deputized by the county sheriff and armed with warrants from the Kansas supreme court led raids on twenty-five places here where it was alleged liquor was being sold illegally.

More than a carload of beer was seized.

U-BOATS RAISE NO NEW ISSUES

Lord Cecil Still Holds Submarines Violate Law.

BLACKLIST NOTE REPLY ON WAY

British Minister of War Trade of the Opinion That Treaty of 1815 Is Invalidated by State of War—England May Modify Blockade Measures.

London, Oct. 14.—The operations of the submarine U-53, off the American coast raises no new issues, as far as the British government is concerned, in the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, who discussed the latest development in the relations between Great Britain and the United States.

Lord Robert declared this form of warfare on merchantmen violated international law as it was recognized by Great Britain and the United States in the days before the war and still was objectionable to Great Britain, but no more so that it is done on the American side of the water.

Referring to reports of meetings between Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attaché of the British embassy at Washington, with American bankers and businessmen, Lord Robert said no departure in principle has been made from the British blockade measures, but it could be safely said that the general policy leaned in the direction of a modification rather than an extension of the blacklist.

He said also that the reply to the American blacklist note now is on the way to Washington and this answers the American criticism of the principles behind the measures.

Replying to the charge that Great Britain is violating its equal treatment provisions of the Anglo-American treaty of commerce and navigation of 1815 by granting licenses to Japanese and French exporters, while refusing permits to American shippers for similar goods, Lord Robert said such restrictions are in the hands of the board of trade, but that he was personally of the opinion that such treaties lost validity during a state of war.

DIVERS WOULD LEAVE IF ALLIES ARE WARNED

Washington, Oct. 14.—Germany would be willing to agree to a request of the United States to abandon further submarine warfare of this side of the Atlantic provided the United States also will enforce a similar restriction on war craft of the allied nations.

This is the attitude of the German embassy in Washington toward the suggestion the United States might, through diplomatic channels, seek to prevent further activities of German submarines on our coast.

A new provision in international law, it is believed, will be written by the United States on the subject. As international law stands, the three-mile limit is fixed as the line beyond which territorial jurisdiction ceases.

That limit, it is thought, may be increased by the United States to a greater distance. Twelve miles has been suggested.

FRUIT SHIPPERS WARNED

Told That Sweating Is Violation of Pure Food Law.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Orange and grapefruit growers and shippers have been warned by the department of agriculture that the shipment in interstate commerce of fruit sweated either before or during shipment is a violation of the pure food law. Sweating turns green, unripe fruit yellow and makes it appear ripe.

The warning was occasioned, the department's statement says, by growers and shippers inquiring what action would be taken during the coming season to prevent the shipment of citrus fruit artificially colored by sweating.

Deutschland Coming Over Again.

Amsterdam, Oct. 14.—According to the Hamburger Nachrichten, Captain Paul Koenig of the German submarine Deutschland, replying to a telegram of congratulations from his native town on his voyage to the United States and return, said he was busy with preparations for a second trip across the ocean which would soon begin.

Zapata General Is Killed.

Mexico City, Oct. 14.—General Emilio Orozco of the Zapata forces, who has caused much trouble in the State of Mexico, was captured in the nearby hills with twelve of his men. They were shot.

JAPS NOW CARRY MAILS

Protest Against British Censorship in Pacific Induces Governments to Forbid Shipment of Mails in English Vessels—National Guard as Adjunct to Regular Army.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 13.—[Special.]—The south regrets and resents the sectional issue that has been raised during the present campaign. Southern men are especially resentful, for they say that they have received less at the hands of the present administration than the northern Democrats. They say that they are being made the "goat" in a most unpleasant manner.

As a matter of fact, it so happens that a number of the southern statesmen, and by that I mean members of the house and senate, are not very well pleased with the present administration. Most of them have felt the heavy hand of the president and have not been favored at the White House.

In view of that state of affairs they resent having a sectional issue raised against them by the Republicans in the campaign.

Say the North Controlled.

They say that, although the southern men received chairmanships on account of the seniority of service of men from that section, the real control of the committees was vested in the majority which came from the north. They say that on every important committee the northern men insisted upon having a majority in order to maintain that control. The seeming power which they secured in the chairmanships, with the actual power in the majority of the committees, has never been very satisfactory to them. On top of this to have the sectional issue raised has made southerners somewhat peevish.

The Government Acts.

There was recently a storm of protest—not public, but strong nevertheless—against the action of the British government in opening and censoring all mail going by way of Vancouver and British steamers to Americans in the orient. So strong was the protest that this government acted. It directed that no more mail be sent by the British lines. Hereafter the British steamers will not carry mail for Americans. The Japs and other lines will get the business. It means delays, for the British lines were fast but it shows that our government objected to having its mail tampered with.

National Guard Inquiry.

The national guard as a military adjunct to the regular army will receive serious consideration in the future based upon its service on the Mexican border. In the first place the national guard as an army is not very satisfactory, for it is composed for the most part of men who do not want to fight unless there is a dire necessity. Just why men become members of the militia is hard to say. In case of real war there is no trouble about volunteers, but for the kind of war going on along the Mexican border the guardsmen have no taste. It is not the kind of military service for which they enlisted.

They Want to Get Home.

Those men or a great majority of them want to get home. The war department is swamped with applications, and in nearly every case it is shown that a great hardship is being imposed on the men by keeping them in service and from their business and occupations. That feature of the national guard as an army adjunct will come in for close scrutiny when the next army legislation is considered.

Roosevelt and Lane.

Theodore Roosevelt felt perfectly free to take Secretary Lane to task and give him advice and information concerning Mexican affairs and foreign relations. It was Roosevelt who brought Lane into public notice. Roosevelt appointed Lane a member of the interstate commerce commission. There has always existed a very high regard for each other between the men.

Matter of Majorities.

A former Missouri man, now living in Oklahoma, takes occasion to tell the people of Washington that any talk about Republicans carrying either Missouri or Oklahoma is no more than rain-bow chasing. "It is nothing but moonshine. All we are figuring on now is the size of the majorities," he said. "Both states are absolutely as sure to go Democratic as Texas. Jim Reed is going to be re-elected in Missouri."

Wild Horses in Arizona.

"Wild horses are going to be a mighty valuable asset in our state," said the man from Arizona.

"Wild horses in Arizona," said the listener. "Have you wild horses in Arizona?" "Lots of 'em," he replied, and as he edged away he added: "That isn't the only thing we have got that's wild. The whole darn population is getting wild. Ashurst is running for re-election down there."

Senator La Follette Upholds Eight-Hour Railway Law.

Highland, Wis., Oct. 14.—Senator La Follette, in his speech here discussing the eight-hour day, drove home the fact that this law establishes a basic day and that it gives to the men the opportunity to bargain with the railroads as to overtime and thus secure an automatic enforcement of it.

He also called attention to the fact that in one year there were more than 261,000 violations of the sixteen-hour law.

He said the railroads forced working conditions on the men that made it imperative that there be an eight-hour day.

GERMANS ACTIVE ON BALKAN LINE

French and British Offensive Halts in Macedonia.

ITALIANS ALONE MAKE ADVANCE

Rome Reports More Ground Gained on Carso Plateau—Petrograd and Berlin Silent on Operations in Galicia and Volhynia.

London, Oct. 14.—Steadily the pressure of the Austro-German forces is compelling the Roumanian troops, who invaded Transylvania less than eight weeks ago, to fall back upon or toward their own frontier.

In Eastern Transylvania, north of Kronstadt, Berlin reports additional territory free of Roumanians.

Southeast of Kronstadt, the Austro-Germans have also been successful against the invaders. The Roumanians, however, are offering stubborn resistance. Bucharest reports the repulse by them of attacks on the frontier of Southern Transylvania.

Violent infantry fighting continues on the Carso front in the Austro-Italian theater, with further successes for the Italians.

Austrians Hammer Back.

In the vicinity of Gorizia, and to the south of this region they repulsed heavy Austrian counter-attacks, inflicting heavy casualties, and east of Dobrodo they approached the second Austrian line, taking 400 prisoners.

Vienna admits the loss of the town of Novavas, but announces that the Austrians put down Italian attacks at other points on the Carso plateau and made 2,700 men prisoner.

In the Pasubio region of the Trentino sector some additional gains in ground are claimed by the Italians.

The French and British have been repulsed in a new attempt to break through the German lines between the Ancre and the Somme rivers in France. The British attacked in the district around Guedecourt and the French near Sully, but neither was able to pierce the defense of the Germans.

Battle in Progress.

South of the Somme stubborn fighting is still in progress at Gernemont and Ablaincourt.

In Macedonia the entente offensive apparently has come to a halt. British advance guards have been active east of the Struma, but on the remainder of the front there has been little activity. A belated report from Sofia records the repulse of six Serbian attacks at Skochvir, on the Cerna river.

Likewise, the operations in Volhynia and Galicia apparently have lessened greatly in violence, for neither the Petrograd nor Berlin war office mentions any fighting in these zones. To the north of the Pinsk marshes in Russia, however, the Germans have attacked Russian trenches on the west bank of the Shara river. Petrograd says the attack was repulsed with heavy casualties.

CHANCE FOR PEACE SLIGHT

Reichstag Socialist Declares, However.

Submarine Activity Will Not Help. Berlin, Oct. 14.—In his speech in the reichstag Dr. David, the Socialist leader, said:

"The chances for peace at this moment are small. Our enemies want no 'immature' peace before the annihilation of Germany. Unrestricted submarine war, however, will not hasten the advent of peace, but will further prolong the war.

"We understand German indignation against the British policy of starvation and against the British plan of warfare after the conclusion of peace England invariably pretends that Germany was glad to go to war."

Dr. David insisted that peace would come as soon as Germany's enemies understood the impossibility of an annihilating her.

He wrote, among other things, "It is my belief that if these people (Canadian volunteers) only in their dreams at night saw a German soldier they would die of fright before morning."

Cars Attacked by Strikers.

New York, Oct. 14.—Crews were driven off eleven surface cars by riotous crowds of strike sympathizers on the Upper East Side, stones were thrown, shots fired and the trouble was quelled only with the arrival of police.

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 14.—St. Cloud will in the future carry its own liability insurance for all employees in the city. This was decided at a meeting of the commission here.

GREEK KING FEARS FOR ROUMANIANS

Convinced That Nation Will Be Crushed in Short Time.

WOULD SACRIFICE HIS THRONE

Constantine Declares Fall of Balkan Neighbor Is Sure to Be Followed by Great German Advance—Allies Uncovered Plot in Athens.

London, Oct. 14.—“When a high diplomatic personage besought King Constantine to change his policy,” the Daily Telegraph’s Athens correspondent says, “the king replied:

“I prefer to lose my throne rather than endanger Greece. I am convinced that in fifteen days Roumania will exist no more.

“If Greece went into the war, then after the conquest of Roumania the irresistible German forces would be directed against Greece and she would share the fate of Serbia and Roumania.”

According to other Athens dispatches received here, the entente allies sent their ultimatum to Greece because they had unearthed a royalist plot to fight the entente.

Allies Unearth Plot.

It was planned, the dispatch added, that if the allies should seek to coerce Greece into joining the war and try to force Elipheos Venizelos up on King Constantine the king should retire northward along the railway, taking the troops with him, and concentrate at Trikala, in Thessaly, and lie entrenched there until the arrival of the German army, when he would strike in unison with them at the allies.

“Admiral du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet,” a Reuter dispatch from Athens says, “addressed a complimentary note to the Greek government Wednesday, demanding on behalf of the allies the control of the Greek police, the prohibition of Greek citizens from carrying arms, the stoppage of sending war munitions to Thessaly and the lifting of the embargo on the transportation of Thessalian wheat.

“The Greek cabinet sat with the chief of the general staff until midnight discussing the note. The council was resumed in the morning, when all the demands of Admiral du Fournet were accepted.

“The British minister has visited M. Zolotas, the new Greek foreign minister, whereby the entente recognizes the new cabinet.”

Boston, Oct. 14.—The pilot of the Russian steamship Hesperus, which docked here, reported that a fast British destroyer was running at top speed across the mouth of Massachusetts bay, making a course from Cape May to Cape Ann just outside the three-mile limit. Other boats of similar type were reported by pilots who brought their ships to Boston.

The British ambassador at Washington has sent word to the British consul general that steamers ready for sea may proceed and the Lord Cromer probably will leave for Liverpool, the Cunard line says.

To meet the claims, federal officers said, there is about $5,000 deposits in local banking houses. There are more than 1,700 customers, according to the officers.

Beacon, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Harry K. Thaw was back in Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane three years after his escape. He was not a prisoner, however, but dropped in for a social call on Superintendent Kieb.

KING FERDINAND.

Roumanian Ruler Appeals to Allies to Save His Country.

The London Times published an interview given to its correspondent with the Roumanian army by the king of Roumania in which the monarch appeals to the allies not to permit his country to suffer the fate of Serbia and Belgium.

“The Roumanians will not falter,” the king said, “in their allegiance to the cause, nor can the enemy wear them from their faith in their allies.”

REPORTS MEETING A GERMAN SUBMARINE

New York, Oct. 14.—A German submarine identifying herself as such by wireless and stating that she was “from Newport,” was sighted more than 100 miles east of Nantucket lightship by a neutral ship now in port, it became known here. The submarine was moving in an easterly direction.

The submarine was sighted some distance from the neutral vessel which was signaled by wireless from the submarine asking her name and nationality. It was given and the question asked in turn: “Who are you?”

“German submarine from Newport, good-by,” was the reply.

The assumption was that she was the U-53, responsible for the shipping raid of Sunday and this report is the latest on her whereabouts. The U-53 was last sighted prior to that time by the Greek liner Patris Monday morning.

Neutrality regulations of the nation whose flag the ship flies and specific orders with respect to their observance are given for withholding the name of the ship bringing the report here, but it is vouched for as correct by a high marine authority of this port who is in close touch with arriving steamships.

CHICAGO CHIEF OF POLICE IS ACCUSED

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Warrants charging Chief of Police Charles C. Healey with conspiracy and malfeasance in office will be applied for by State’s Attorney Macfarlane Hoyne.

“I shall probably ask for the arrest of other persons also,” said Mr. Hoyne.

The charges are said to have had their root in the chief’s administration of the law with regard to vice, saloons and gambling.

Information from the state’s attorney’s office was that 1,000 documents on the files taken from the office of Chief of Police Healey tend, in the opinion of State’s Attorney Hoyne, to substantiate Mr. Hoyne’s allegations of malfeasance in office against the chief.

Lancaster, O., Oct. 14.—A report received here by Coroner Peter Bugh from chemists at Columbus who examined the stomachs of the three women, Agnes and Alice Smetters and Mary Stretton, found dead seated in chairs at the Smetters home here Oct. 1, stated that no trace of poison was found in the stomachs or the piece of pie that had been found in the house partly eaten.

Officials now believe that the deaths were caused by gas fumes from a heater.

U-BOATS RAISE NO NEW ISSUES

Lord Cecil Still Holds Submarines Violate Law.

BLACKLIST NOTE REPLY ON WAY

British Minister of War Trade in Opinion That Treaty of 1815 Is Invalidated by State of War—England May Modify Blockade Measures.

London, Oct. 14.—The operations of the submarine U-53, off the American coast raises no new issues, as far as the British government is concerned, in the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, who discussed the latest development in the relations between Great Britain and the United States.

Lord Robert declared this form of warfare on merchantmen violated international law as it was recognized by Great Britain and the United States in the days before the war and still was objectionable to Great Britain, but no more so that it is done on the American side of the water.

Referring to reports of meetings between Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attache of the British embassy at Washington, with American bankers and businessmen, Lord Robert said no departure in principle has been made from the British blockade measures, but it could be safely said that the general policy leaned in the direction of a modification rather than an extension of the blacklist.

He said also that the reply to the American blacklist note now is on the way to Washington and this answers the American criticism of the principles behind the measures.

Replying to the charge that Great Britain is violating its equal treatment provisions of the Anglo-American treaty of commerce and navigation of 1815 by granting licenses to Japanese and French exporters, while refusing permits to American shippers for similar goods, Lord Robert said such restrictions are in the hands of the board of trade, but that he was personally of the opinion that such treaties lost validity during a state of war.

DIVERS WOULD LEAVE IF ALLIES ARE WARNED

Washington, Oct. 14.—Germany would be willing to agree to a request of the United States to abandon further submarine warfare of this side of the Atlantic provided the United States also will enforce a similar restriction on war craft of the allied nations.

This is the attitude of the German embassy in Washington toward the suggestion the United States might, through diplomatic channels, seek to prevent further activities of German submarines on our coast.

A new provision in international law, it is believed, will be written by the United States on the subject. As international law stands, the three-mile limit is fixed as the line beyond which territorial jurisdiction ceases.

That limit, it is thought, may be increased by the United States to a greater distance. Twelve miles has been suggested.

FRUIT SHIPPERS WARNED

Told That Sweating Is Violation of Pure Food Law.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Orange and grapefruit growers and shippers have been warned by the department of agriculture that the shipment in interstate commerce of fruit sweated either before or during shipment is a violation of the pure food law. Sweating turns green, unripe fruit yellow and makes it appear ripe.

The warning was occasioned, the department’s statement says, by growers and shippers inquiring what action would be taken during the coming season to prevent the shipment of citrus fruit artificially colored by sweating.

Deutschland Coming Over Again.

GERMANS ACTIVE ON BALKAN LINE

French and British Offensive Halts in Macedonia.

ITALIANS ALONE MAKE ADVANCE

Rome Reports More Ground Gained on Carso Plateau—Petrograd and Berlin Silent on Operations in Galicia and Volhynia.

London, Oct. 14.—Steadily the pressure of the Austro-German forces is compelling the Roumanian troops, who invaded Transylvania less than eight weeks ago, to fall back upon or toward their own frontier.

In Eastern Transylvania, north of Kronstadt, Berlin reports additional territory free of Roumanians.

Southeast of Kronstadt, the Austro-Germans have also been successful against the invaders. The Roumanians, however, are offering stubborn resistance. Bucharest reports the repulse by them of attacks on the frontier of Southern Transylvania.

Violent infantry fighting continues on the Carso front in the Austro-Italian theater, with further successes for the Italians.

Austrians Hammer Back.

In the vicinity of Gorizia, and to the south of this region they repulsed heavy Austrian counter-attacks, inflicting heavy casualties, and east of Doborodo they approached the second Austrian line, taking 400 prisoners.

Vienna admits the loss of the town of Novavas, but announces that the Austrians put down Italian attacks at other points on the Carso plateau and made 2,700 men prisoner.

In the Pasubio region of the Trentino sector some additional gains in ground are claimed by the Italians.

The French and British have been repulsed in a new attempt to break through the German lines between the Ancre and the Somme rivers in France. The British attacked in the district around Gueudecourt and the French near Sully, but neither was able to pierce the defense of the Germans.

Battle in Progress.

South of the Somme stubborn fighting is still in progress at Gernermont and Ablaincourt.

In Macedonia the entente offensive apparently has come to a halt. British advance guards have been active east of the Struma, but on the remainder of the front there has been little activity. A belated report from Sofia records the repulse of six Serbian attacks at Skochvir, on the Cerna river.

Likewise, the operations in Volhynia and Galicia apparently have lessened greatly in violence, for neither the Petrograd nor Berlin war office mentions any fighting in these zones. To the north of the Pinsk marshes in Russia, however, the Germans have attacked Russian trenches on the west bank of the Shara river. Petrograd says the attack was repulsed with heavy casualties.

CHANCE FOR PEACE SLIGHT

Reichstag Socialist Declares, However, Submarine Activity Will Not Help.

Berlin, Oct. 14.—In his speech in the reichstag Dr. David, the Socialist leader, said:

“The chances for peace at this moment are small. Our enemies want no ‘immature’ peace before the annihilation of Germany. Unrestricted submarine war, however, will not hasten the advent of peace, but will further prolong the war.

“We understand German indignation against the British policy of starvation and against the British plan of warfare after the conclusion of peace England invariably pretends that Germany was glad to go to war.”

Dr. David insisted that peace would come as soon as Germany’s enemies understood the impossibility of an annihilating her.

FARMER GUILTY OF SEDITION

German Resident of Saskatchewan Criticized Canadian Soldiers.

Bismark, N. D., Oct. 14.—Ludwig Giesinger, a young farmer of Holdfast, Sask., has been found guilty in the Saskatchewan supreme court at Regina of seditious libel, it is said, as a result of an article he wrote for the Staats Anzeiger, published here.

He wrote, among other things, “It is my belief that if these people (Canadian volunteers) only in their dreams at night saw a German soldier they would die of fright before morning.”

Cars Attacked by Strikers.

New York, Oct. 14.—Crews were driven off eleven surface cars by riotous crowds of strike sympathizers on the Upper East Side, stones were thrown, shots fired and the trouble was quelled only with the arrival of police.

City Insures Its Employees.

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 14.—St. Cloud will in the future carry its own liability insurance for all employees in the city. This was decided at a meeting of the commission here.
